What's in Space?

Everything or Nothing?

Philosophy behind Space

Rationalism and Absolutism.

Forms of Space

Cosmos- Outer Space: The infinite pool of matter and antimatter.

Physical quantity of Space: The quantifiable amount of area around us.

Emotional Space: The Space between two people and their dynamics of emotions that are at play all the time.

Personal Space: The comfort zone of every individual that changes in shape with every passing mood.

Plot summary

Somewhere in the quiet of Earth's Orbit lies a space shuttle ready to return. It's only mission is to collect the last of the samples floating in space. It has one man ready to retrieve it and send them back home. So then, the only question remains is, does he even want to go back? What follows is an epic journey of a lifetime that takes you across stars and galaxies until you get lost into imagination.
